

One Semester in China

Synopsis:

One Semester in China (OSC) is a special program in collaboration with international partner universities. It enables students of our international partner universities to live and study in China for one semester. The OSC has the ability to create a China campus for the partner university, enabling its students to pursue their studies under the university's direct supervision in China. How it works:

- 1 Knowledge of China has become an integral part of international education as China plays a very important role in today's global economy. Global Hanyu believes higher education is incomplete if students do not spend time abroad, especially in China. This is because China has become a MUST destination on the world map.
- 2 The foreign Partner University (Partner) works with Global Hanyu initially on a semester/term/year abroad programs for its graduate and undergraduate students. Students are sent to China and taken care of by Global Hanyu.
- 3 Partner continues to deliver the program with their faculty or faculty from China put together by Global Hanyu but accredited by the Partner. In addition to the course work dictated by the partner University for Credit earning, students take a specific number of credit earning Chinese Language and Culture program delivered by Global Hanyu.
